DEAN'S WELCOME ADDRESS

PROF. WILDON AGYEI AGYARE
DEAN OF STUDENTS

On behalf of the University Management, I congratulate you on your admission to Kwame Nkrumah University of Science and Technology. Remember that you were among the few to have gained admission into this noble University, as such you have every right to be proud of the feat achieved.

Taking a look into the future, there is the need to build on the successes achieved so far by consolidating them and working hard to accomplish your new set goals. Look forward to the next four or six years as a very challenging but exciting period, and employ a lot of creativity and innovation in the way you do things.

Life in KNUST promises excitement and I want to encourage you to be positive in your mindset and approach to life in general. Remember, you have been admitted purposely to study the programmes of your choice in this University and you cannot afford to disappoint your parents, brothers, sisters, friends, and society at large. Considering the unlimited freedom in the University, you must at all times remember why you are here. Your newfound freedom must be exercised with responsibility and learn to manage your time very well.

Please note that your freedom on this campus must also be exercised within the limits of the Rules and Regulations of KNUST as well as the National Laws. Our Rules and Regulations are designed to protect you as an individual as well as all others students and staff, and to create a conducive environment for you to go through your training without hindrances. Let us always be guided by what Oliver Wendell Holmes said "your liberty ends where my nose/right begins," and know by this, that the University does not compromise on discipline.

The Office of the Dean of Students is the home to all students while on campus. Our doors are always open to listen and attend to all students' issues to the best of our abilities, and so never hesitate to make the outmost use of the Office. Professional Counselling Services, and Senior Tutors in charge of private hostels are available within the Dean of Students Office to assist you, and to make life meaningful on campus. The Office also has the International Students' desk and houses the Ghana Immigration services to assist foreign students to easily integrate into the University community.

Note that the students you meet here are the same people you will meet out there in the future. I encourage you, therefore, to be very sociable as you start to build your future links and social networks. However, be mindful that not all people can be chosen as friends.

Let us follow the very words of Eleanor Roosevelt by believing in the beauty of our dreams. It is only then that we can beat our chests and pride ourselves, in the near future, as technocrats who touch lives and change the world positively

As you have started a new life here, I urge you to embrace the opportunity before you and make the most of it. Once again, welcome and enjoy your stay.

WELCOME ADDRESS

Please accept our congratulations and thank you for selecting Kwame Nkrumah University of Science and Technology as your university of choice. We are excited to collaborate on learning, exploring, and growing. We appreciate your presence given the current economic situation. We have been so impressed with your adaptability to a constantly shifting environment and your capacity to grow despite all the difficulties you have encountered. We will all need to be understanding and adaptable during the 2022/2023 academic year due to the ongoing economic crisis. The fact that you are here on campus makes us happy despite these unusual circumstances. You are a part of a vibrant campus community at KNUST that values diversity and academic excellence. I urge you all to keep a positive outlook and stay out of trouble because life at KNUST promises excitement. Always remember why you are in this place. Now that you have more freedom, you should use it responsibly. Be sociable and pick your friends wisely. Always maintain your faith and belief in God. We support one another in fostering a community free of intolerance and discrimination. We promote a respectful, civil, encouraging and secure campus climate because we are a university committed to developing the leaders and contributors of tomorrow. We are able to offer a learning environment where each of us can pursue our dreams and reach our full potential thanks to the noble institution's core values. Your enrollment at Kwame Nkrumah University of Science and Technology is greatly appreciated by our office and the entire KNUST SRC Executive Council. Welcome to our beautiful campus, we can't wait to show you around.

LEADERS' LOUNGE

KNUST IDL

It feels like only yesterday that I was a freshman like you, looking at greeting artwork and comments from student leaders as I pondered what the Institute of Distance Learning could provide for me. Now that I am using this space to welcome you all: The hours pass quickly. I want you to always remember that there is no time to waste.

I also want to congratulate you on getting a spot to attend a prestigious university like the KNUST with stellar national and cross continental recognition.

As we start a new academic year, the DLSA leadership, under my direction, would like to welcome all new students to the best university in the nation as well as all returning students to another semester. The leadership of our noble association is devoted to continuing to spread the word about and represent the interests of students front at all levels.

Beginning with the start of the new academic year, the KNUST DLSA leadership will launch a number of programs and projects that touch practically every element of student life, including our academic, social, health, and general wellness.

I further implore all students to feel free to approach student authority figures when confronted with circumstances that call for their intervention, as well as to take advantage of all the university's facilities to equip yourselves for the mission of better serving the university and country.

I also reassure you that the leadership will always be at your disposal whenever you need us. I hope your school year is very successful. I sincerely hope and pray that the entire student body, the faculty, and the university as a whole will have a successful academic year.

NATIONAL UNION OF GHANA STUDENTS - KNUST NUGS LOCAL

The national union of Ghana students Mostly referred to as the union is the mother body of all students associations from the graduates level down to the basic level with the primary aim of protecting the right and interest of all Ghana student. The local Nugs administration steers the affairs of the secretariat in KNUST with its core mandate centered on students problems, codination of students activities and to formulate student opinion on matters of mutual concern, we also serve as an intermediary body between the students loan trust fund and students , many of our activities are poised towards seeking the welfare of students, protect and represent students interest by offering a common platform for such deliberations among other outreach programs to various communities. We hope to achieve our mandate through the execution of carefully planned activities that will revitalized our commitment to the entire students body , just as our motor says Education a right not a privilege. A warm welcome to everyone as you excecise your right on this exciting journey in pursuit of higher education. Aluta Continua ;Victoria Ascerta.

KNUST - OBUASI CAMPUS

In the zeitgeist of your admission to KNUST Obuasi, the SRC warmly welcomes you. We welcome you with glittering smiles into the KNUST campus in Ghana's gold hub. This invariably makes it the golden campus, for its very fabric is shrouded in the heart of the land of gold. We, therefore, want you to know that you now have in your hands a golden opportunity. It is an opportunity of a lifetime to better yourself as you acquire new knowledge and curate new experiences. Now, we entreat you to bask in the spirit of the moment, for it is going to be an unforgettable experience. However, not to burst your bubble, we caution you to fasten your belts for it is not going to be all rosy. No Sweetness Here too.

Nevertheless, when it turns hardest, Consistency, Determination, and Focus would be your wildcards to succeed. Thus, aside from God Almighty, your opium and ultimate refuge. As we are elated to give you a headstart into your new academic pursuit here, we would continue to be your backbone, an unflinching partner. Do well to always reach out to us and we would readily be at your service.

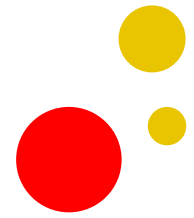

Welcome. Akwaaba. Bienvenu.

HEALTH CORNER

The authorities of the Kwame Nkrumah University of Science and Technology (KNUST) have provided a special students' clinic to help boost health delivery on campus, the clinic provide services solely for students to enable them go about their studies peacefully. students, as well as staff of the university, had not been able to receive prompt medical attention, especially during the morning peak hours, as a result of the congestion at the Out-patients Department (OPD) of the University Hospital.

The Clinic cater solely for students. the students' clinic is not isolated but it's a real appendage to the main hospital, the clinic would run from Monday to Friday. students should be patient whenever they visited the clinic for treatment and also treat the health personnel there with the utmost respect, courtesy and dignity. The KNUST student clinic is located just beside the Hall 7, Chancellor's Hall. The clinic offers quality and free service to students for minute cases. One don't spend enough time and any stressful procedures when visits the clinic for illness treatment
